PLANS MADE TO IMPROVE CITY'S PARK

City Council Authorizes $300 To Be Spent for Trees And Shrubs

LETTER FROM C. OF C.

Need of Plan for Bettering of Entrances to the City Suggested

The beautification of the several entrances to the city and the covering or removing of the unsightly creek through the downtown business section are two problems now confronting the Redwood City Planning Commission. The commission at its monthly meeting Monday night agreed to look for ways and means for correcting these matters, following the reading of a communication from the local chamber of commerce. The chamber called the commissioner's attention to the fact that the services of Major George Bradeen, park and play ground expert, are available to help them solve their problem. Major Bradeen is serving with the local Citizens' Park and Playground Committee in an advisory capacity, without charge.

Several large life insurance companies, it is reported, have available at the present time a great amount of funds, one company close to $5,000,000, for use in residential property loans in California. Surveys of various cities are being made and one of the important factors taken into consideration in the survey is "city appearance." Any unsightly condition, such as the creek, naturally would not enhance Redwood City's chance of being favorably considered in the loan programs of the insurance companies.

Letter From C. of C.

The letter from the Chamber of Commerce to the City Planning Commission reads as follows:

City Planning Commission,
Redwood City, California.
Gentlemen:

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, there was considerable discussion of the apparent need of a plan for the bettering of the appearance of entrances to the city by the new Bay Shore Highway, and also the entrance on El Camino Real at Four Points.

An apparent need for a plan for permanent treatment of the wash, and the possible future doing away with the Bradford street bridge as a part of such plan, was also discussed.

This led to the suggestion, that with the coming of the Western Pacific Railway, the new Bay Shore Highway, and possible extensive Harbor development, that the present is a favorable time for the study of a city plan', which might be intelligently followed in future development of the city. In this connection it was felt that possibly a complete readjustment of zoning, with a permanent plan, in conformity with a city plan, might profitably be studied at this time.

This included discussion of possible future development of a Civic Center in the vicinity of the City Hall, and it was felt that this too, might become a part of a general city plan which it might be advantageous to study at this time.

The Board of Directors felt that for the Chamber to ask a committee to undertake this study, would be to duplicate machinery which is already in existance, and that the request for consideration of these suggestions should be made to the city planning commission, with the promise that the Board will gladly assist in helping to carry into effect such plans as may be arrived at.

As a matter of information, Mr. George Bradeen, who is now acting as a consultant with the Citizens Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, is a city planning expert. His consultant services are available from time to time, without any direct expense. He made some study of a Civic Center while spending several days at Redwood City recently, and he will be here again sometime within the next month.

Sincerely,
CHAMBER of COMMERCE,
By Howard I. Wood,
Secretary.

Mezes Park

The city council Monday night, acting on the recommendation of City Manager Rolison, authorized the expenditure of $300 from the general fund for the planting of trees and shrubs in Mezes Park. Park Superintendent George Hopkins will supervise the selection and the planting of the trees and shrubs.

The tree planting in Mezes Park is the first step in the city's park and playground plan. The council is co-operating in the program of "city beautiful" with the citizens' park and playground committee of which Councilman Paul A. McCarthy is chairman and Howard I. Wood, manager of the chamber of commerce, is secretary.

Former Redwood City Girl Dies from Poisoning in S. F.

Mrs. Ruth Emmons, Mother Of Three Children, Succumbs

HOLLINGSWORTH HELD

Arrest of Former Redwood City Man Caused by Girl's Parents

Claiming that their daughter, Mrs. Ruth Emmons, 25, mother of three, had been murdered, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gardner of Heller street, Redwood City, caused the arrest in San Francisco Wednesday night of Eric Hollingsworth, alias Edward Emmons, real estate dealer of that city.

Mrs. Emmons died in Central Emergency hospital Tuesday afternoon from poisoning. It was believed at first that she had committed suicide in despair over her inability to provide for her three young children, whom she abandoned at the Third and Townsend streets station March 1. The children are in charge of the San Francisco Juvenile Court and are being cared for by a family in this city.

According to Lieutenant James Malloy, head of the San Francisco crime prevention detail, who arrest-Hollingsworth, the latter had admitted knowing Mrs. Emmons for the past four years, during which time they had frequently posed as man and wife. They were not married, the arrested man told Malloy. Hollingsworth, it is said, worked at one time as a painter in this city.

Police on Wednesday night searched Hollingsworth's room at a Seventh street hotel, where he and Mrs. Emmons had stayed the night before she died. They found a half bottle of ant poison, Malloy said. Hollingsworth asserted that the woman had told him she had taken ant poison. A taxi-cab driver, said to have taken Mrs. Emmons to 2007 Chestnut street just before she told Hollingsworth she had poisoned herself, was being sought yesterday for questioning. The cab driver is said to have overheard Mrs. Emmons say she had taken poison, according to Malloy.

Funeral services for Mrs. Emmons will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home in this city and will be private. Interment, which also will be private, will be in Alta Mesa cemetery.

Adams, president of the Western Pacific Railroad Company. Adams was to be the principal speaker at the luncheon and was to outline what the Western Pacific planned to do for the Peninsula in connection with having secured its permit from the Interstate Commerce Commission to build its line from Niles to San Francisco via Redwood City.

PROPOSED COAST ROAD RE-ROUTED BY ENGINEERS

Prospects of avoiding payment of $112,000 to the defunct Ocean Shore railroad and others for rights of way for the new San Francisco-Santa Cruz coast highway were seen last night at a meeting of the Coastside Civic Union, when George Dunn, Halfmoon Bay publisher, reported that a new route over Point San Pedro has been platted by engineers.

Dunn said he spoke for Supervisor Manuel Francis, Halfmoon Bay member of the commission in charge of construction.

The new route will eliminate the formerly proposed tunnel and will largely do away with the danger of slides, said the speaker. The initial cost of the new route will be greater, but the difference will be made up in lower maintenance charges, it was stated.

Supervisors Rosalie Brown, San Mateo; John Poole, Redwood City, and Manuel Francis of Halfmoon Bay, now attending a convention of supevisors at Sacramento, have arranged a date with Governor Rolph to seek state aid or the San Mateo-Halfmoon Bay road, known as the San Joaquin to the Sea highway, Dunn told the meeting. Supervisors have expressed the belief that the matter can be brought before the present legislature, said the publisher.

Realtors Will Meet To Discuss Legislative Action

The merits of Assembly Bill No. A-B 218, known as "Special Assessment Fifty Percent Limit Bill," will be discussed at a luncheon to be held at the Sequoia Hotel next Saturday at 12 o'clock under the auspices of the Eighth District of the California Real Estate Associations. The speakers will include D. D. Watson of Brentwood, president of the association, and Glenn D. Willaman, secretary. The bill, which was sponsored by the State Real Estate board, has been given the endorsement of the local realty board.

Members of the San Mateo, Burlingame and Palo Alto real estate boards will attend the luncheon, which will be open to the public.

Henry Witte, vice president of the California District Real Estate Board, will preside.

Meeting Wednesday

On Wednesday evening, March 18, a meeting under the auspices of the Redwood City District Real Estate Board will be held at the city hall. A talk will be given by Norman E. McFadden of San Francisco on Tax Legislation and Property Owners Membership. The meeting is open to the public and all persons interested in this important subject are urged to attend.

A number of local property owners have joined the Property Ownership division of the Redwood City District Real Estate Board. The quota for Redwood is 90 members.

Loyal Order of Moose Will Be Instituted Mar. 29

Redwood City Lodge of Loyal Order of Moose will be instituted in the Odd Fellows Hall on Sunday, March 29, with the impressive ceremonies starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Harry W. Millspaugh, national director of the Order on the Pacific Coast ,has obtained a large class of new members, selected from clean-cut progressive citizens of the Peninsula. The new class will be initiated in class formation by the lodge officers of the San Francisco and Oakland orders.

Speaking of the organization, Millspaugh in an interview yesterday said:

The economic stringency through which the world has passed, has in no way curtailed the activities of this great fraternity of over 750,000 members.

Director General, James J. Davis, former Secretary of Labor in the Cabinets of three Presidents, now Senator of Pennsylvania, reports tangible assets of over $45,000,000. Last year approximately $2,500,000 were expended to take care of members during times of sickness, accidents and funerals. In more than 5000 young lives disaster and tragedy was turned the triumph of a life of usefulness.

The Loyal Order of Moose has always advocated any legislation that will bring relief and comfort to dependents, crippled and aged. More than that it has set an example to the world by doing what it advocated, now being the recognized leader in the assistance for the widowed mother, the dependent orphan and aged members, winning worldwide admiration by its quiet and efficient conduct in such humanitarian aims.

The non-sectarian rituals teach the finest lessons in the highest things in life, in principles that should be the guiding force in all mens lives.

Girl Scout Troops Celebrate the 19th Anniversary

Over 250,000 Girl Scouts in The United States Are Participating

Three troops in the Sequoia High School district are observing the nineteenth anniversary of the Girl Scout organization in the United States this week. They are Troop No. 5, Misses Mura Stilleson and Janet Wood, leaders; Trillium Troop and Shooting Star troop of Menlo Park.

Troop No. 5 also celebrated its first investive service, when Miss Gladys Wagner received her tenderfoot pin on Wednesday night.

Trillium Troop celebrated with a Girl Scout birthday cake, which was decorated with 19 candles. Mrs. F. L. Saule presented the cake and Miss Florence Wikoff gave a short talk on the first troop meeting in Atlanta, Ga.

Shooting Star troop of Menlo Park invested Carolyn White and Barbara Shepherd, holding a fitting ceremony in connection with the event on Thursday afternoon. Refreshments included individual cakes, decorated with 19 to celebrate the Girl Scouting's 19th birthday.

250,000 Celebrate

Over 250,000 Girl Scouts are celebrating the anniversary throughout the United States, the anniversary of the organization of the first group of eleven girls, organized by Juliette Low in Savannah, Ga., on March 12, 1912.

Mrs. Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting in this country, found her inspiration in the scout program begun by Lord Baden-Powell

Having successfully survived the growing pains of infancy, childhood and youth, the movement approaches its nineteenth birthday with the proud consciousness of its present membership and influence.

From that first troop of eleven girls, called the "White Rose" patrol has grown an organization which has reached out to more than one million girls during their 'teen years.

The first camp, Lowlands, founded in 1913 in Savannah, has multiplied to five hundred and forty-five camps.

The first headquarters, one room in the Louisa Porter home in Savannah, moved to Washington in 1913, and two years later to New York, where it now occupies two adjoining buildings.

The first training camp on Lookout Mountain, near Rome, Ga., has developed into four national training camps.

The first uniform, a dark blue duck worn with a light blue tie reminiscent of the English Girl Guider's, has been discarded for the native American soft grey green uniform well known not only in the United States, but in its territorial dependencies as well.

Juliette Low died in 1927, having accomplished her purpose and having lived to see her great vision realized. The movement she founded to give every girl an opportunity to develop the best within her, according to her personal bent, grows stronger day by day.

MENLO PARK TO CELEBRATE ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Next Monday the Hall of the Nativity, Menlo Park, will be the scene of a large gathering of Irish folks assembled to celebrate St. Patrick's Day in the true Irish fashion. This celebration held annually for many years by the people of the county in honor of Ireland's patron saint is usually well attended. This year the crowd promises to be larger than ever before. The program is an excellent one, replete with numbers that will please all. Irish songs, dances, monologues, skits and folklore are certain to bring back memories of the old land and revive an interest of those forgotten songs, so dear to the Irish heart. Among the numbers on the lenghty program are as follows:

Introduction of Mike Lawley, master of ceremonies; J. R. Phillips vocal solo; Paul Penna, accordion solo; Orchestra, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling"; Duncan Reynard, banjo solo; San Mateo Elks' Orchestra, under direction of Dr. J. C. McGovern; Miss Elsie Jacobs, song and dance; The O'Neill Sisters, Irish dancing; Henry and Esther Haman, vocal solo; David J. Millar, Jr., violin solo, accompanied by Belton Rhodes at the piano; Mike Lawley, story and song; Orchestra, "Come Back to Erin."

TAXATION PERPLEXES LAW BODY

Depression Brings Flood of Measures Asking for Tax Revision

MORE THAN 300 BILLS

Little Hope Given Those To Tax Personal Incomes

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, March 18—(UP)—In times of prosperity law making bodies are little concerned with measures designed to tap new sources of revenue and revise existing tax systems.

But a change downward in business conditions inevitably brings a flood of bills concerning taxation, and the California legislature has become acutely aware of the fact that the country is just emerging from a depression.

More than 300 proposed bills on the subject of taxes are now before the state legislature, touching every phase of the problem, from advocacy of a tax on radios to a sweeping change in the whole state system of raising revenue

With announcement by Governor James Rolph that he will not look favorably on measures embodying new types of taxation, little hope is given such bills introduced during the first session of the legislature to tax personal incomes at one-third of the federal income tax rate; levying a tax of one and one half cents on each foot of motion picture film; a plan to make the gasoline tax four cents instead of three cents; a taxation on chain stores; a 50 cent tax per radio set; a poll tax, and other similar plans to bolster state income.

Governor Rolph's theory is that the whole proposition of revenue raising in this state is vitally in need of prolonged scientific investigation. To accomplish this end the administration is sponsoring several bills which are conceded an excellent opportunity of becoming law.

Most important of these, according to administration leaders, is the measure which would make the state board of equalization a permanent fact finding body in the tax field. A research bureau in the board, under the joint control of members of the board, the governor and the director of finance, is planned to collect and summarize tax data.

To give the equalization board proper facilities to carry on the work, another measure would substitute the name of State Tax and Equalization commission for the existing board and enlarge its membership to five, giving southern California another member.

In addition to doing research work in taxation, the proposed commission would administer state tax laws, exercise general supervision over county assessors and boards of equalization, advise assessors, and hear appeals from individual taxpayers dissatisfied with decisions of county equalization boards. At present the individual taxpayers has no recourse from a decision by such a county board.

Real estate associations and other interested organizations have combined in an attempt to curb, through legislation, the rapidly growing tendency to overburden property by special assessments. One bill, sponsored by the Los Angeles delegation, would limit special assessments to amounts which do not exceed 50 per cent of the true value of the property.

Correct Likeness of Washington

The Houdon bust of George Washington at Mount Vernon has been successfully photographed and a finished picture secured. Thus, a portrait has been produced that is an exact likeness of the face, head and shoulders of Washington. The new portrait may be regarded as a distinct contribution to the forthcoming nationwide celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of our greatest American.

Houdon, the famous French sculptor, was induced to come to the country for the purpose of making a life mask of Washington, and he succeeded with the assignment. From clay gathered at Mount Vernon, combined with plaster of paris, he made a bust of the neck and head of Washington. This original bust is carefully guarded at Mount Vernon, and it satisfyingly reflects Washington's features, and strong characteristics.

To Congressman Sol Bloom, associate director of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission; and Colonel Harrison Dodge, who for nearly half a century has been superintendent of Mount Vernon, goes the credit for securing this splendid likeness of the Houdon bust. With the aid of skilled photographers they were able to secure a picture which has the fullest amount of detail, and expression, that it was possible to obtain from the bust.

The finished picture is excellent, particularly because its accuracy is proven by comparing it with the Houdon bust. It is entirely free of decorative embellishments such as Gilbert Stuart and other artists put into the portraits they made of Washington.

The new Houdon-portrait is being used for the center of a design carrying the dates and words: "1732. George Washington Bicentennial. 1932."

The public at large will undoubtedly accept the portrait as a true likeness of the Father of His Country, as they become familiar with it.

Running a Newspaper

The thing that makes it hard for a person to run a newspaper is his friends. When a friend thinks something ought to be kept out of the paper he doesn't hesitate to ask it as a personal favor. An enemy doesn't ask any favors. But a friend thinks the conduct of a newspaper is the personal matter of the editor, when as a matter of fact he is largely in the position of a man serving a public trust.

A philosophical old fellow once said to the writer, "A newspaper that doesn't make you mad once in a while isn't worth the subscription price."

To make people mad isn't the chief province of a newspaper, but if it's going to be one worthy the name, it must print the news without fear or favor. This paper has been threatened with, and indeed has suffered, business reprisals, not once, but frequently. These things must necessarily be borne in silence. The great reading public which a newspaper serves is not interested in the personal difficulties of the editor or publisher, though we have known instances where a full airing of threats and subsequent reprisals would have made absorbing reading.

But such things must be regarded as part of the game—to be suffered perhaps because of sins committed in other directions. And then, too, it must be remembered that all things, both human and divine, are subject to criticism. Even the Bible does not escape.

Davis Blameless

In the Closing hours of Congress, Senator Davis of Pennsylvania was vindicated and absolved of any dishonorable conduct in his election. A senate committee headed by Senator Nye had offered objections to Senator Davis in taking his seat, and the matter finally simmered down to a report in which it appeared that the Davis-Brown ticket in the Pennsylvania primary of last year, spent too much money. But it did not appear that Senator Davis had been guilty of overspending on his personal account.

The Senator has been very sensitive against reflections upon his personal character and his statement at the close of Congress indicated that he was greatly relieved by the vindication.

Well, good men who behave themselves ought not to be lied about, even though they do expose themselves by getting elected to the Senate.

Good from Evil

It has been said that Americans are extremists. Certain it is that when they go into a thing they go into it whole heartedly and accomplish amazing results quickly.

Last summer some chemical manufacturers, having discovered an inexpensive method of making synthetic methanol wood alcohol, decided the largest immediate market for it was an an anti-freeze in our 26,000,000 automobiles. Its deadly nature and the fact that it brings blindness and death whether taken internally, absorbed through the skin or inhaled in the form of fumes in sufficient quantity, had no deterrent effect on its producers. So millions of gallons have been placed on the market this winter.

It has been a boomerang. In all parts of the country legislators and medical authorities have turned their guns on this sudden public menace. Bills restricting the sale of the new poison—or, rather, the old hard-fought poison in new guise—were introduced in both houses of Congress and in the legislatures of several states. Some cities have thrown protective legal barb wire between it and local motorists. The medical world, including the American Medical Association, state and municipal health authorities and independent scientists, are agog over the reappearance of an enemy they have combatted for years.

About the only argument in favor of this flood of poison has been a report of an investigation begun by the United States Bureau of Mines, financed by some of the methanol makers, stating that its preliminary opinion was that, while deadly poison, anti-freeze methanol is likely to be harmless if properly handled. So is dynamite and so is carbolic acid!

This report caused a storm of protest by medical officials and scientists. The result has been a unanimously adopted resolution by the United States Senate, on complaint of the New Orleans Association of Commerce and Senator E. S. Broussard of Louisiana, calling for complete details and an explanation of such use of a government bureau by private interests to whitewash a lethal product.

This attempted general introduction of methanol wood alcohol anti-freeze, which it is said has already caused 300 deaths since last October, has had one good result—it has showed us that our health and safety have strong, alert watchdogs who, once aroused, after public dangers in typically American fashion. As Andy says, "Now aint that sumpin'?"

Raising Beautiful Flowers

Carl R. van Empelen, internationally known landscape architect and floral designer, is visiting America for the first time. He has come here as the guest of American horticulturists and florists to exhibit to Americans his art of decorating the home, office and gardens—an art which has won him twenty-nine gold medals in the important flower and garden shows of Europe and Asia.

Coming from a family whose descendants for seven generations have been growers of tulips and hyacinths, van Empelen knows, it is said, more about these flowers than any other person in the world. He believes that tulips and hyacinths, if properly decorated with ferns, greens and appropriate ribbon, can make a basket and vase of flowers that is unequaed in its beauty. While in America van Empelen at the different flower shows in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia and elsewhere is demonstrating to American florists how to effectively create beautiful basket floral designs. He uses not only tulips and hyacinths, but roses and other American flowers.

Europe has taken more to flowers since the war than ever before van Empelen says. Flowers grow in patches and gardens evrywhere in Europe. They have served to bring beauty to the home and to help forget the sorrow and drabness of the war. Every country in Europe has taken to extensive flower growing, except Russia. There, he declares, Russia has taken up available fertile land for grain raising. The Communistic government contends that flower raising is a capitalistic indulgence.

Before returning to Holland van Empelen will visit the gardens of leading Americans and the municipal gardens of fifteen cities of America.

The Star-Spangled Banner

Congress hesitated a long time before adopting the Star-Spangled Banner as the official national anthem of the United States. But the measure was finally sent to the President in the closing days of the recent session. Now that the anthem is official it is hoped that more people will be able to memorize the words and sing it through. Congress listened to many objections against adopting the song as a national anthem. But as the words and tune were recognized everywhere as the unofficial national anthem of the people, the objection to official action faded out.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" depicts a dramatic event in American history, when Francis Scott Key was inspired to write his great national song. Key followed the British to their vessels after the capture of the city of Washington, (war of 1812) for the purpose of trying to secure the release of Doctor Beanes, an influential and well-known physician of Upper Marlboro, Maryland. Key, a resident of Washington, witnessed the attack on Fort Henry, and the spirit of that scene lives in our official National Anthem.

Love's Sacrifice

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS

Sally Todd and Lois Montgomery seek careers in New York. Sally enters hospital training, after despairing of a career in the movies, and Lois marries a wealthy man many years her senior. Their paths diverge somewhat, for Lois's husband disapproves of Sally, who is very gay. On several occasions, after late parties, she has taken drugs to carry her through the day and is dismissed from the hospital. Lois provides her with a home and Dr. Dale Randolph offers her a job. She falls in love with him. He is strongly attracted to Lois. Sally, befuddled by drugs, tells him she loves him. He dismisses her, but Lois persuades him to give her another chance. Sally, instead of being grateful, becomes jealous. Lois's husband is informed that she is in love with Randolph. He watches her closely, particularly when she is in Randolph's company. Sally's brother, Bert, who was in love with Lois at home, comes to New York. Sally tells him Lois is unhappily married and still in love with him. His attentions to Lois bring a remonstrance from Walton. Lois does not suspect that her husband, who resents her failure to aid him in realizing his social ambitions, is getting very tired of her. Hoping to find her in some indiscretion, he has her shadowed. He enlists Sally as an ally.

Chapter 66.

Questions

Sally was packing for her holiday without any special enthusiasm. She hated surprises, and the prospect of being sent away — she didn't know where — didn't please her. Bert had been very mysterious about everything — her destination, the length of her stay, and the source from which he was getting the money to finance the trip.

She felt very helpless, and she was increasingly uneasy at her inability to get in touch with Lois. She had telephoned the Walton residence a number of times, and had always received the same answer — "Mrs. Walton was out. It was not known when she would return."

Bert had said that he would return later in the evening and that she must be packed and ready to leave when he appeared. As she fastened the clasps on her suitcase, she heard footsteps on the porch below. She leaned from the window and called: "Bert."

A voice answered: "It's Dr. Randolph."

Too surprised to speak, Sally closed the window and hurried downstairs.

"This is an emergency measure," he said, smiling gravely. "I want very much to see your brother."

"He — he'll be back soon," she murmured, fidgeting as she realized that he was wondering why she had returned so soon from the sanitarium. "I'm going away for a bit," she added, "to a place Bert has found. The first one was too much like a hospital — reminded me of my training days." She shivered suddenly.

"Where are you planning to go now?"

"Why, Bert found another sanitarium. He's made some money, and——" She broke off abruptly as she saw Dale Randolph look at her keenly. He had been trying to decide whether to ask her if she had seen Lois, or if she knew of the trouble that had come to her friend. But her remark about Bert's money prompted him not to bring up the subject.

The next moment Sally opened it herself. "I can't imagine where Lois is," 'she said. "I've tried and tried to get her on the telephone, but they always tell me that she's not in."

Dr. Randolph's face grew stern. "Then you haven't heard?"

Sally looked at him wide-eyed. "No. Has anything happened?"

He told her briefly what had occurred and related the incident that had made him decide to see Bert that night. Sally flushed crimson as he described Lois's plight. She tried to appear indignant, but, under Dale Randolph's cool gaze, she became silent.

"Whoever aided her husband," he continued, "was a thoroughly dishonorable person."

Sally was saying to herself: "He thinks I did it. He's trying to make me understand that he suspects me." She said, with an atempt at defiance: "Are you accusing me? Because, i you are, you're all wrong. I don't know anything about it."

But she spoke with such embarrassment that he thought: "She knows something — she's heard something. I'm on the right track."

His concern for Lois was so evident that Sally began to grow angry. And, the more anxiety he showed, the less she felt. A quick, jealous rage was swiftly mastering her. "All his thought was for Lois — he doesn't care what becomes of me," she muttered to herself.

But Dale Randolph had no idea how rapidly he was killing any chance that he might have had of getting information from her. He was entirely unaware of the anger that she felt against him.

"There is something that you could tell me, if you would," he said coolly. "Somehow I have a feeling that your brother knows ——"

Ordinarily, Bert was the last person that Sally would have troubled herself to defend. But now she felt that she must speak in his behalf, even though what she was about to say was not the truth.

"My brother has just as much right to be in love with Lois as you have," she said, with spiteful emphasis. "And I don'e see haw you can think that he would do anything to harm her. From all I can gather, you are the one who has done that, and now you're looking about for someone to blame."

Despite himself Dale Randolph became angry. She was so adroit in turning his words back upon himself. She watched him now as he tried to conceal his anger and speak calmly.

"I am not trying to blame anyone who doesn't deserve blame," he said slowly. "But I am sure that Lois has been made the victim of someone's treachery, and I want to know who that person is."

Then Sally said what she had been wanting to say all along: " If you had been so concerned for her welfare, you'd have kept away from her the moment you began to suspect that her husband had an inkling of your feeling for her. Now that you've made a mess of things, you are sorry, but that isn't going to do Lois any good."

She stopped to consider the effect of her words. It was all that she had hoped for . She had cut him to the quick, and the knowledge pleased her tremendously. He had the sensation of a fighter whose plan of attack has been utterly upset and who is forced to meet an offensive that he cannot understand.

As he sat there, uncertain whether to attempt a reply, the telephone rang. Sally hurried down-stairs and came back in a few moments, flushed with excitement.

'Of all things," she said breathlessly. "Bert just telephoned to say that I'll have to take my holiday by myself, after all. He and Lois are going away."

Kiwanians Told About Glass

J. C. MacKenzie of the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Co., San Francisco, gave an interesting talk on the manufacture of flat and plate glass before the members of the Kiwanis Club here Wednesday. Evidence that the art of glass making was known as early as 200 B. C. was found in the opening of the tombs of the early Egyptian Kings, the speaker said. The ruins of Pompei, the city destroyed by an earthquake in 79 A. D., revealed traces of flat glass.

It was not until after the Eighteenth century, however that flat glass was sufficient in quantity as to make it available for general use, the speaker pointed out.

The first successful glass manufacturing plant in the United States was built in Boston, Mass., in 1737, said Mr. MacKenzie, who explained that the greatest factor in the cost of the product is fuel. The opening of the great natural gas wells at Kettleman Hills in Kern county, offering cheaper fuel commodity, will undoubtedly result in the manufacturing of glass on the Pacific Coast in large quantities, this now being confined to the Eastern States, declared the speaker.

The first non-scattering glass was manufactured in France some 30 years ago, it was shown, but it was not until two or three years ago that the process was perfected so as to make the glass of practical use.

Asa E. Hull was chairman of the meeting.

STUDY OF LAW IS MODERNIZED

CHICAGO. March 12 (UP)—Laboratory and cloister methods are to be adopted by Northwestern University law school in an effort to modernize the study of law.

The present first year class of the school is studying under the new plan, President Walter Dill Scott announced. The plan provides for an individual program for the entire student body in addition to the formal instruction of the class room.

Dean Leon Green of the university law school explained the plan as follows:

"After the student has learned how the judicial process operates through legal theories, principles, doctrines, formulas and rules, he will want to know more in detail about the actual problems which are troubling business, how business men, lawyers and courts deal with them.

"Here he will be introduced to the intricate problems of business organization, financing, marketing, which in turn include banking, insurance, taxation, arbitration and many sorts of special contracts."

CATTLE THEFT LAW PLANNED

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 12 (UP)—The Oklahoma legislature has been asked to enact a law intended to curb the activities of modern cattle thieves in the state.

The bill provides that all persons register and provide county commissioners with a complete description of all animals they purchase for slaughtering. Names of the persons from whom the animals are bought would be furnished officials.

Keeping of such a record will enable officials to trace disposition of stolen animals and eventually result in the arrest of guilty persons, proponents of the measure claim.

Cattle theives have become so active in some sections of the state recently that cattlemen decided to urge the legislature to take some action. Introduction of the bill followed.

It was necessary to organize a vigilantes committee recently in southeastern Oklahoma to curb thefts.

HOLLYWOOD'S FILM SHOP

By RONALD W. WAGONER

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 (UP)—The talkies have become rather a late of points east.

It seems that Chester Morris prominent screen star, planted the movie germ in other members of his histrionic clan when he came to Hollywood two years ago to find success in sound pictures.

The incubus clampd down on Chester's dad, William, with both jaws and seven months ago the Morris patriarch rounded up all members of the family within screaming distance and started westward.

A stage engagement, "To the Ladies," in Hollywood, led to the father's first talkie contract and he subsequently appeared in Jack Oakie's starring vehicle "The Gang Buster."

With the elder Morris is his wife, who as Etta Hawkins achieved recognition some years ago as a comedienne with E. H. Southern, in "Lord Chumley," "The Charity Ball," and other productions.

Another son, Adrian, had a legitimite role in Los Angeles last fall, appearing in "The Last Mile," and he also had done picture work.

A daughter Wilhelmina, won a part in "The Criminal Code" on the Hollywood stage, and is grooming herslf for the films.

The sole member of the family to resist so far the lure of the celluloid is Gordon, the eldest son, a New York playwright. Father William reports, however, that the family is endeavoring to bring the prodigal into the California fold.

A few years ago William Morris toured in vaudeville with an act of his own authorship, entitled "All the Horrors of Home," supported by his wife and three acting children.

Daylight Mining Finding Favor

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 11 (UP)—"Daylight mining" is gaining wider favor in the lower anthracite fields.

Under this method, steam or electric shovels are used to strip the earth from seams of coal lying close to the surface. The workers then mine the coal in the open air instead of sinking shafts and spreading networks of tunnels and gangways, underground.

The method was one of two adjuncts to increased anthracite production during the "boom" years preceding and during the World War. The other was the washery system, through which coal previously discarded on banks or accumulated in water courses was run through washery plants and sieved to provide small grades of anthracite.

Operators blamed the washeries for much of the disfavor anthracite met on the market because of the inferior quality. Most of the larger companies are suspending washery operations at their mines.

POTASSIUM SALTS USED TO TREAT TUBERCULOSIS

CHICAGO, March 13 (UP)—Potassium salt baths are being combined with ordinary methods of treating tuberculosis with success in Poland, Dr. Franz von Groer, lecturer for the University of Illinois, revealed in conferences with medical authorities here.

The salt solution is used with great care to stimulate the body. Great caution is required in treating pulmonary types of tuberculosis with the baths, von Groer said.

Customery treatment including good food, fresh air and sunshine as well as ultraviolet rays and X-rays is given also.

The only potassium salts suitable for use in tuberculosis cases are found in Poland, Germany and France, von Groer said.

NEW X-RAY TUBE INVENTED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., (UP)—An X-ray tube which shoots its rays with the accuracy of a rifle instead of spreading them over a large area is the invention of Dr. Dimitry E. Olshevsky of Yale University.

CHICAGO, (UP)—Because her husband enjoyed leaving notes saying he had committed suicide and played other similar pranks, Mrs. Mary Steinke, 21, was granted a divorce.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.

Board of Health Tells a Few Things You Ought To Do

"Do Not Overeat; Avoid the Fats; Cut Out the Sweets And Drink Water

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 13 (UP)—Now that the "flu" is on the way and there's the very duce to pay, the state health board has just run through some things you ought to know—and do.

In the first place do not overeat; avoid the fats; cut out the sweet. Drink lots of water every day and milk is also good they say. When bedtime comes get lots of sleep—eight hours or ten, without a peep.

Keep out of drafts and office breezes, and guard against the guy who sneezes. He may not know that each "kerchew" can start another case of flu. Sneezers, coughers and all the rest who thus would "get it off their chest," are very vareless in the way they juggle germs from day to day.

Avoid these sudden changes which run from hot to cold. A sort of happy medium is best so we've been told. And do not overlook the fact that there's a close relation between this matter of good health and that of ventilation. And while we're on the subject it might be well to say, a good preventive measure is a cold bath every day.

A teaspoonful of soda in water thrice a day with a milk and orange diet may scare the bug away. But if you have a temperature, there's one thing must be said: "Don't fool around a minute. Call your "Doc"—and go to bed!

Protection of Desert Beauty Sought in Bill

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 13 (UP)—The pristine verdure of the Nevada deserts would be protected from the ravages of the tourist under a bill which residents of Las Vegas are asking the Legislature to enact.

Since California Legislature passed a law protecting its own desert wild flowers tourists from southern California have moved in hordes to Nevada and Arizona to pillage the deserts of the cactus, the yucca and the joshua trees, it is claimed by the people here.

Agitation for such a protective law started when it was learned that a party of California tourists came to Nevada in search of cacti, found a large area of it, tore the plants up by the roots and then, finding them too spongy and uncomfortable to carry in their car, left them by the roadside to rot in the blazing sun.

WINSLOW, Ark., (UP)—Wild hogs, which at one time roamed the Ozark Mountains in herds, are virtually extinct in this range. Except is isolated regions these ferocious beasts, which would charge anyone who crossed their paths, are never seen.

ANGLER CATCHES RARE FISH

OSHKOSH, Wis., (UP)— R. M. Dunham, who has been fishing for nearly half a century, is seeking a home for one of his latest acquisitions—a member of the yellow perch species, colored white on the belly, and a clear azure blue, with black stripes, on its back. According to Dunham, such coloring, common as it may be in tropical waters, is a rare characteristic of fish in North America.

MENLO PARK

The West Coast Nursery, having purchased a tract of land at Oak Grove, between Mayfield and Mountain View, will move their plant there shortly. The land now used by the concern on the highway will be subdivided and sold. An underpass through the railroad embankment at a point on the property is to be constructed. Alma street is to be extended over the San Francisquito creek and through the underpass to connect with the highway coming out near the Ahlert plumbing shop, making the nursery lands valuable as a business center.

J. Flannigan, serving time for killing two persons at the corner of Middlefield road and Oak Grove avenue in an automobile collision two years ago, will have to remain ten years in prison according to a decision gipen by the state prison board last week.

Mr. J. Black, a resident of Menlo Park a quarter of a century ago, greeted old friends on Tuesday. Mr. Black is a wealthy contractor of Southern California. While here he was employed as a carpenter on the Stanford University buildings.

Martin O'Dea, who passed away this week at San Francisco at the ripe old age of 91 years, was widely known in Menlo Park. He is known to fame as the man who manufactured the plates for the race horses at Stanford Stock Farm. He measured and made these tiny horseshoes for the fleet footed racers that brought honors to the stock farm in the eighties and early nineties. O'Dea was a close friend of Senator Stanford who trusted him with this important work. O'Dea became wealthy after starting a horse shoeing establishment on Van Ness avenue, San Francisco.

Herman Williman, for nineteen years employed at St. Patrick's Seminary, passed away at the Oak Grove Villa on Monday last from an attack of pneumonia. The deceased was a brother of Edward Williman, principal of the high school at Pescadero and a graduate of Stanford. He also was for many years an employ of the seminary and during his stay there was a member of the Menlo Park baseball team.

M. A. Harris, the popular mayor of Atherton, is a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the Menlo Park Fire Commission, he filed his certificate of election on Tuesday last.

The Native Daughters will have no card party next Tuesday evening but will continue the series the Tuesday following. The Daughters did not want to interfere with the date set for Saint Patrick's celebration and thus gave way to make the entertainment a success.

Mayor Weeden and City Engineer Mehl returned Saturday from a trip to Sacramento where they attended a meeting of the mayors of the state. All bills relating to municipal government now before the legislature were scanned by the officials and many were opposed as being vicious and detrimental to the progress of the cities of California. A banquet was given in their honor at which Governor Rolph spoke and congratulated the mayors on the splendid work they were doing.

The election for three commissioners of the Menlo Park Sanitary District took place on Monday last. Only 250 votes were cast as against 550 at the election last year. The result of the vote was as follows: Edward Eyre, Jr., 170; W. T. Casey, 157; Mr. Fanto, 154; Mrs. Emma Stribbling, 104; Alexander Walker, 63; Mr. Glunz and Judge Cook are the old members of the board.

The city council held a brief session Tuesday evening. Blake was absent owing to illness.

J. F. C. Hagens, a property owner on Santa Cruz, in a communication to the council objected to the contemplated street improvements in that section saying that he did not believe that widening of Santa Cruz was necessary at this time. He thought a twenty foot strip of pavement on Johnson avenue would suffice and that sidewalks on that stree was unnecessary. The communi cation was ordered filed as were all other protests on that subject.

The Ordinance regulating the sale of uncooked an uncured meats and the hours in which butcher shops should operate was unanimously adopted.

A letter was read from the League of Municipalities regarding bills numbered 526, 527 and 573 relating to proposed laws for municipalities now before the legislature for passage at Sacramento. The communication urged that the bills be fought as they were vicious. If passed all fines imposed by the municipal judge would go into the county treasury instead of the city strong box. The clerk was instructed to write Senator Cleveland and Assemblyman Parkman to use their influence in the legislature to defeat these measures. Mayor Weeden explained that while attending the meeting of the mayors of the state at Sacramento last week over fifty bills before the legislature were investigated and more than half of them were opposed by that body.

C. A. Berry was granted a permit to construct a 12000 gallon gasoline tank at his station on the corner of Live Oak avenue and the highway. The application was approved by the fire warden, Captain Whittaker.

Walter Hoff of the West Coast Nurseries was granted a permit to move a building from the nursery property, outside of the city limits, to College avenue. Building inspector Mehl presented plans and specifications for the remodeling of the building. One thousand dollars is to be expended on the structure. Dale was rather opposed to granting the permit. When shown that the structure would be transformed into an attractive dwelling he voted for the permit. Mr. Anderson is to move the old house.

The council adjourned to March 24.

Late Saturday evening last, when crowds were leaving the theatre a young man in an automobile accompanied by three fair young companions dashed through town at a speed exceeding 65 miles an hour. It is nothing short of a miracle that some innocent party was not killed. Officer Dyer followed the fleeing car and arrested the driver near Mountain View. The young man's case is set for next Monday. Such flagrant violation of the traffic laws calls for sever punishment. Drastic measures should be used to stop this practice. Officer Dyer deserves the thanks of the city for his prompt action in apprehending the young man.

Attorney James Davis of Redwood City and formerly district attorney of Del Norte county has leased rooms in the Sutton building and will practice his profession in Menlo Park. He was born and raised in Siskiyou county and as a young man was elected district attorney of the neighboring county. He served over seas in the late war. Some years ago he bought the Dr. Dykes home in Redwood City. He has an office in San Francisco but will give all his attention to his office in Menlo Park.

Thomas Furman, a cadet on one of the steamers plying between San Francisco and Australia, is spending a short time with his parents here before again sailing for the antipodes.

Ward E. Monroe, the local live real estate operator, has had the front of his office on the highway painted this week with gay colors. It is hoped that others on the block will follow suit.

It has been stated by Dr. Olsson-Seffer ,the veterinarian, that he will soon put up a business building on property in the Stanford Park district of Menlo Park. Dr. and Mrs. Olsson-Seffer recently established themselves in their new home on Creek Drive.

Councilman Eugene J. Crane of Menlo Park, who is also police commissioner, recently presented the police department with a used Underwood typewriter and some months ago also made a present of a desk light to Chief of Police Love. The latter is very appreciative of the thoughfulness of his superior.

Menlo Park building permits for the month of February amounted to $5525, according to City Engineer Bert Mehl.

Miss Dorothy Smith, a Menlo belle, was married to Leroy Brunig in St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, on March second. The young couple will reside in Menlo Park.

Samuel M. Shortridge, Jr., is engaged in making an official visit to all the parlors of Native Sons under his juridiction as grand trustee. Mr. Shortridge will be a candidate to succeed himself at a meeting of the grand parlor at Monterey next April.

Senator Shortridge leaves Washington on Sunday for Menlo Park. He will stop en route at Los Angeles for a few days before proceeding home.

Everything is set for the big entertainment in honor of St. Patrick next Monday evening. The show is to be the best ever given in Menlo Park.

Governor James Rolph made his first notary public appointment in San Mateo county last week when he selected Miss Eleanor L. Falvey, the popular attorney, a notary in and for the county. Miss Falvey is associated with the firm of Ross & Ross of this city.

J. R. Klawans, one of the best known young attorneys in the state, has resumed his law practice at 1705 Russ Building, San Francisco. Mr. Klawans left a lucrative business to manage the James Rolph campaign for governor and had charge of the headquarters in San Francisco. Mr. Klawans rendered a splendid service for Mr. Rolph.

WOODSIDE

Selah Chamberlain and family have spent most of the past month at their home in San Francisco. As chairman of the unemployment relief bureau and director of the community chest he has had little time left for the enjoyment of the simple and quiet life of the country.

Mrs. George Whittell left on Saturday for a visit to her native land of France. She expects to be away about six months.

The early spring has stirred our summer residents into longings for the life of the country and many of them are planning an earlier return to their homes here. The Roths will be down in April which is a month earlier than their usual arrival, and the Avenalls are also expected in April.

Several new homes are under construction at Woodside Glens and others are planned to begin next month, all of them to be ready for the vacation season.

The London Bridge Club, composed mostly of Woodside residents, met at the home of Mrs. George Givens at Redwood City on Wednesday night.

Miss May Huddart, superintendent of the Woodside Sunday School, is already rehearsing her charges upon the program for the Easter services. The children have complete charge of the services at the church on Easter-day.

California Is Becoming Dairy Mecca of West

Miss California Gradually Becoming Milkmaid of the Western States

STANISLAUS CO. LEADS

Increase of Dairy Business Expected to Absorb All Importations

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 13 (UP)—Miss California gradually is becoming the milkmaid of the west.

The growth of the state's dairy business has been steady and constant, particularly during the past 10 years, with San Mateo county keeping step with 7,000 dairy cows valued at $210,000.

Proof that dairying is no longer an "infant industry" is seen in the report of the state board of equalization that there were 547,939 dairy cows in the state in 1930 with a total value of $21,266,242.

While this is a slight decrease from the record of 1929, the depression is believed to be only temperary, and a steady increase in the number and value of dairy cows is anticipated for future years.

Darying has kept pace with the growth of California cities and the accompanying increase in population, and there has been a steadily increasing propotion of the milk production in the state that is consumed as whole milk, cream and ice cream.

"This increase has been especially marked in the past decade, amounting to more than 100 per cent. In 1920, 64 per cent of all the milk in California was used in the manufacture of butter and cheese, while in 1929 only 41 per cent was so utilized," as University of California bulletin states.

This increased use of whole milk and cream may be attributed partly to educational campaigns stressing the dietary importance of these items.

In recent years considerable quantities of butter and cheese have been shipped into California from other states, but the growth of the local dairy business is expected to absorb this importation in the future.

Stanislaus county leads the state with 66,067 dairy cows, valued at $2,264,885. Merced county follows with 39,762 cows, valued at $1,590,480, and Los Angeles county credited with 31,568 cows worth $1,482,674.

NORTH HAVERHILL, N. H. (UP)—Though only 16, Katherine Applebee has been chosen master of Pink Granite Grange. The girl, a sophomore at Haverhill Academy, is believed the youngest head of such a lodge in New England.

Student Traps Animals to Pay University Fee

SEATTLE, March 13 (UP)—It is common enough to hear of young men working their way through college by dirving cabs, working in garages, unloading ships and waiting table, but Jack Grant, a junior at the University of Washington, traps animals in the forest to earn his tuition.

Grant runs his trap line every morning, trudging five miles, sometimes through mud or snow, before going to classes. He frequently has caught bobcats worth $5 apiece. Skunks, coyotes and other animals have contributed to his education.

SPEAKING of SPORT
BY FRANK GETTY

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Winston Guest,
King of Poloists

Sooner of later, it would seem every sport finds its emperor. Golf had its Jones, tennis its Tilden, baseball its Ruth, running its Nurmi, and fighting its Dempsey to name a few.

The latest sport to find its ruler is indoor polo and the man with the sceptre, pardon, the mallet, is Winston Guest.

Yep, the same Winston Guest who played such a bang-up back on America's last two international teams and who was recently raised to a nine-goal man by the United States Polo Association. As capable as he is on the out-doors' turf the big strapping 200-pounder is even more deadly on the tanbark.

Guest has been steadily nearing the indoor throne for the last two years. That is, ever since he organized the Optimists trio. Since that time in both metropolitan and national championship play the Optimists have met the strongest outfits the game boasted, yet they have nver been defeated. Week in and week out they have gone about their business of soundly trouncing the best in the land and doing the trouncing in a manner most nonchalant.

Club Successful
Because of Him

No one doubts that Guest is the reason for the Optimists' success. Three men have servd as No. 1 on the team and as many have handled the No. 3 berth but the club has never faltered, for Guest always was in th line-up.

Any doubt that might have existed regarding the superiority of the Optimists was removed a week or so ago when the Guest trio decisively whipped the powerful Los Nanduces team of MacDonald Jones, Cyril Nanduces and Gerry Smith. Los Nanduces was formed to end the unbroken string of Optimists victories.

The Optimists were undaunted, however, and rode to a well-deserved 13½ to 5½ triumph.

After the game an innocent bystander remarked "that the only way to whip Guest's gang would be to enlist Tommy Hitchcock, Eric Pedley, Rube Williams and a few of those boys." The innocent bystander was about right.

LUCKY HUNTER

Antelope Island, in the center of Utah's great salt lake, is one of the few places in the world where buffalo abound as they did in days of old when Indians roamed the western plains. Occasionally a hunter is permitted to visit the island. Claude Armstrong, Ogden sportsman, is the lucky hunter shown in this picture with the huge beast he brought down.

Seals To Use New Park and Players Soon

By JAMES S. SHEEHY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

A new ball park, several new players and a chance for the Pacific Coast League flag!

That's a thumbnail summation of the San Francisco Seals with good old Nick Williams in charge and a flock of rookies in camp from which may come another Paul Waner, Willie Kamm, Vernon Gomez or Gus Suhr.

Diminutive Hughie McKenna, former Oregon State College athlete, San Francisco prep school athletic coach and now part-time scout for the Seals, raked the bushes of the Pacific northwest for his employers. Included in his list and eating at the Seal training camp are Joe Gabriel, ex-university slugger catcher; Dave Cruikshank, outfielder last year with Aberdeen in the Timber League, and pitchers Walter Crosetti, Tacoma League right hander; "Speed" Soden of Arlington, Ore., and Red Smith of the Portland City League.

Ralph McClain, ex-Albany high and town team catcher, also is working out with the Seals. He was scouted by Clyde "Red" Rupert. Several other youngsters may include a "pay dirt" find that annually brings San Francisco owners real money.

Jimmie Zinn will head the capable pitching staff that may bring a pennant to San Francisco. The hurler won 26 games last season and was so lusty with the willow that he found his spare time occupied with pinch hitting and outfield duties. Elmer Jacobs, star curver, again will show his pitching skill and a new veteran, Sam Gibson, is down from the Yankees to strengthen the corps.

Bill Henderson also was sent down by the Yankees. Art Delaney was secured from Los Angeles by trade. Add Curt Davis, a rather flashy performer; Clyde Perry and Tal Turpin and you have collected quite a staff.

Receiving the slants will be Alex Gaston, seasoned veteran, and Alex Penebsky, a rookie of two seasons ago, who by application and coaching has acquired real catching skill.

Jim Keesy, tried, likeable, steady and long range hitter, will play first base. Portland fans wanted to see him back at Vaughn st., but Judge Landis said the Athletics couldn't juggle him around any more and the Seals secured him from Newark. Jim is delighted to be back on the coast and should have a great year. Hundreds of friends hope so.

Jimmie Caveny at second, Frank Crosetti, sensational shortstop, who goes to the Yankees next year, and Ralph Pinelli at third complete the infield. Capable infield reserves are needed.

A crashing outfielder of the Smead Jolley type would aid the outer gardens, but Roy Frazier, down from Pittsburg; Red Wingo, Jerry Donovan, Henry Oana and Ernest Sulik perhaps will do. The speed is there, but lusty clouts will be needed to carry the team to a one-two post this season.

CHURCH GOES "PEE-WEE"

PHILADELPHIA, (UP)—The latest innovation in church recreational activities is under way at the Bethlehem Presbyterian Church. A group of the younger mmbers have constructed a miniature 18-hole golf course in the basement of the church under the direction of the Rev. William L. McCormick.

MOE AND VOIGHT MAKE ENGLISH GOLF HANDBOOK

LONDON, March 13 (UP)— D. K. Moe and George Voight are the new United States golfers included in the 1931 edition of the Golfer's Handbook which is just off the press.

Such well known United States players as Helen Hicks, Virginia Van Wie, Maureen Orcutt, Johnny Farrell, Al Espinosa, Johnny Golden, Abe Espinosa, Dr. Willing, 'Wild Bill" Melhorn, Ed Dudley, Joe Turnesa, Roland Mackenzie, and Craig Wood are not listed in the "Who's Who in Golf," classification.

The first full page picture of the book is one of Bobby Jones standing behind a table and the four cups he won last spring and summer. The caption of the picture is: Mrs. R. T. Jones, Jr. The world's champion. "Winner of British and American Amateur and Open Championships, 1930.

Pictures of Miss Glenna Collett and Tommy Armour are also included.

The description of Donald Moe is: "D. K. Moe, Born U. S. A. Clubs—Portland, Oregon. Played for U. S. A. vs Great Britain in 1930, and was first amateur after Mr. Jones in the British Open Championship, 1930." Moe placed 15th in the British Open, played at Hoylake and won his singles Walker Cup match from J. A. Stout one up and teamed with Roland Mackenzie to defeat Sir E .W. W. Holderness and Stout 2 and 1 in a foursome match.

The following appears about Voight: "George Voight, born U. S. A., played for America vs Great Britain 1930."

Hagen's Address

For the first time the book includes the street address of Walter Hagen—6545 St. Antoine, Detroit.

Former editions have carried the birth of Bobby Jones as, "Born 1901." That was all. This edition, the 33rd, corrects former editions by stating, "Robert Tyre Jones, born 17th March, 1902.

Horton Smith's old address, of Oak Hill Golf Club, Joplin, Missouri, U. S. A.., is still given instead of his present New York address and club affiliations.

Under the list of Oxford and Cambridge Golf Blues the name of Robert H. Baugh, Birmingham, Alabama, Oxford University, appears for the years 1928-9-30. During the last 20 years only six other Oxford players have won three Blues in golf. Baugh captained a victorious Oxford side last year.

HARVARD HOCKEY PLAYER HEADED FOR FAME

CAMBRIDGE, Mass March 13 (UP)—George Owen, former Harvard athlete now playing with Boston's Bruins, 'will have made a name as the outstanding player" before he retires from hockey, Art Ross, coach of the Bruins, said in the Harvard Athletic News.

Ross classed Owen and the late Hobey Baker of Princeton as the greatest products of American college hockey, adding that Baker was an "American tradition," and that "no American will ever admit his superior."

BRITISH ATHLETES FACE BUSY SUMMER SEASON

LONDON, March 13 (UP)—Track and field athletes of Great Britain will compete in four foreign matches and the A. A. A. Championships this year.

The A. A. A. Championships have grown into a miniature Olympic Games. These games will be held at Etamford Bridge July 3 and 4.

On July 18, Oxford and Cambridge join forces to meet a visiting Harvard and Yale team at Stamford Bridge. The British team will oppose the French in Paris August 2, and the Germans these two meets the British stars will return to Stamford Bridge, London, to compete against a crack Italian team.

These five major meets will forecast Great Britain's Olympic strength and also produce considerable information about the ability of Germany, France and Italy.

The British track season opens formally March 7 when Oxford and Cambridge meet at Stamford Bridge From now until early summer a number of inter-county meets, club championships, army and police games will be held. Several cross country runs have already been staged.

Polo Team Expects To Go South for Meet

If sufficient funds are raised by next week, Coach Jim Eva will take his Sequoia Union high school varsity water polo team to Los Angeles over the next week-end, to compete for the unofficial state championship in water polo.

The team was scheduled to leave this week-end, but because of the failure of the water polo teams in the southland to compete their finals the championships were postponed a week.

The Cherokee paddlers will meet about three of the strongest teams in the South and will be required to topple these stiff opponents before preceding to state recognition.

During the past season the Cherokee team has made an impressive record in the water sport, having won the Peninsula Water Polo League and given prominent club and college teams stiff competition, while they upset the powerful University of California frosh water polo team 17 to 1.

The Sequoia team is led by Captain Jim Adams, S and F. Goldthwaite, George Cartwright, Bob Svihus, Walt Worrell, and Dick Martin. All these men and a number of substitutes will probably make the trip with Coach Eva and a manager.

TWINS PUZZLE TRACK COACH

LINCOLN, Neb., (UP)—They look alike. They run alike. And they ran dead heats in the high hurdle races. This is the problem that confronts Henry F. Schulte, track coach at the University of Nebraska, when he matches Linus against Leon Carroll, twins. The boys are identical and apparently have the same athletic ability. Schulte can't tell them apart. He's quit trying.

Sequoia Paddlers To Meet Galileo

After their double victory over the Tamalpais high school varsity and 130-pound swimming team, the Sequoia Union high school swimmers will take on the Galileo high paddlers next Wednesday in the Cherokee pool. On Friday night the Cherokees meet one of the strongest swimming teams in the Bay region, Alameda high, winners of the North Coast section title last year.

The Galileo high paddlers took a close victory over the Cherokees in two meets last year, but Coach Jim Eva expects a victory in this contest. The Alameda high dual will doubtless be postponed because of the many members of the team who will make the trip to Los Angeles to compete for the state water polo title.

The Cherokee 130's won from Tamalpais 28 to 18 while the varsity led 49 to 29. Martin, Sequoia sprint man turned in a victory in the medley race and also raced a dead heat for the 220-yard free style event. Sequoia swimmers turned in several good times in the meet and with the usual improvement during the season, the Cherokees should be strong for the league.

Coach Jim Eva has scheduled a number of practice meets with other schools and the Indian teams will get plenty of stiff practice.

BROOKLANDS, Surrey, Eng., March 12 (UP)—Crash helmets are now being used by most of Britian's racing drivers. The helmet light and effective, was designed by Dr. D. Gardner, Brookland's physician.

During the past six months a number of drivers crashing at a speed of more than 100 miles per hour and wearing the helmet have escaped serious head and scalp injuries. Recently Major Coe went over the edge of the banking at 110 miles per hour and when Dr. Gardner arrived with the ambulance he found Coe unstrapping the crash helmet on which he had landed head first.

Hi. Baseball Team To Cross Bats With So. S. F.

After a successful practice season, the Sequoia Union high school varsity baseball team will clash with the South San Francisco high school nine in their first Peninsula Athletic League game of the season on the South City diamond this afternoon.

Rain postponed the scheduled baseball game Wednesday with Mountain View high school on the Mountain View diamond; and unless the weather changes, Coach Len Casanova, Sequoia baseball mentor, will postpone this afternoon's game with the South City team and likewise the practice game billed with Santa Cruz high, there, tomorrow afternoon.

After the Indians' brilliant victory over the San Mateo high varsity in a non-league game 10 to 0, the chances for the Cherokees in their coming pennant season loomed larger. San Mateo has also defeated Burlingame. The Cherokees meet these two schools along with Palo Alto high later in the season.

Since the closing of the basketball season a number of hoop athletes have reported to the baseball squad and are expected to bolster up the team when they get sufficient practice. Al Langbehn, Will Scheyer, Ed Cullen, Bill Lewis, and Leo LeRoy are all veterans from the basketball team and are now out to strengthen the Indians.

At present the Cherokee nine is built around the 130-pound teom built around the 130-pound team such veterans as, Jim McGuire, George Jelich, Mannie Hoffman, Al Tognoli, Elbert and Ed Garcia, Emile Pommes, Max Green, and Bill Lewis, all up from the lightweight squad.

The Indians hold victories over Santa Clara high, Mountain View, San Mateo, and Cogswell, while they were defeated by two college freshman teams. Scheyer tossed a one-hit game against San Mateo.

The probable lineup for this afternoon's game will include the following: Sheyer, pitcher; Cullen catcher; McGuire, first; Langbehn, second; Tognoli, third; Maloney, short; Jelich, left field, Praeder, right field, and Hoffman, center field.

Track Meet to be Held Here Today

Because of weather conditions the scheduled lightweight interclass track meet set for last Wednesday will be held this afternoon on the Sequoia Union high school oval, while the unlimited meet will be run off next Thursday if possible, according to Coach Ray Dimick, coach in charge of the meets.

Next week will be a busy time for the Cherokee track team. On Monday the Sequoia lightweight tracksters take on the Mountain View lightweight on the Sequoia oval. Wednesday the Indian 130's meet the Montezuma team on the Montezuma field at Los Gatos.

The varsity team will encounter the Montezuma varsity cindermen on the Sequoia oval Friday afternoon. This will end the track competition for the week, with the interclass being run off Thursday or the following week.

Chisholm Trail May Be Marked In Oklahoma

Bill To Commemorate Famous Cattle Path Before Legislature

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 13 (UP)—The old Chisholm trail, traversed by countless thousands of Texas Longhorns during the days when Indians and buffaloes roamed the western prairies, may be officially marked in Oklahoma.

A bill was introduced in the legislature providing for the state highway commission to place markers on the trail from Doan's Crossing on Red River to a point on the Kansas state line, south of Dodge City, Kan.

The Chishlom trail is still visible in many sections of the state by small ravines which formed from the tracts made by cattle herds as they were driven through the Indian country from Texas ranches to Kansas markets.

Should the bill become a law the highway commission will be required to print maps, showing markings on the trail and its proximity to the Rock Island railroad and U. S. Highway No. 81, running north and south through the state.

Pioneers have been unable to agree on the exact route. Many contend it took a westerly course through the state, while others claim it ran farther to the east.

The Chisholm trail was the scene of many stampedes, which the cattle drivers attempted to halt at night by the singing of the now famous cowboy songs.

INDIAN ARTISTS WILL COMPETE

NEW YORK, March 12 (UP)—A competition among the artists of the American Indian tribes, for the best design suitable for use as a poster and catalogue cover, is announced by the Exposition of Indian Tribal Arts.

John Sloan, president of the organization, said that "there are many very talented artists among the Indians who have recently started painting in water-colors. The Kiowa, Hopi and Pueblo Indians are particularly competent. We are asking them to submit designs. Examples of their paintings, as well as the pottery, basketry, jewelry, textiles, beadwork, etc., of 30 Indian tribes, will be shown at the Exposition.

The winning design will be awarded $100. The design will be used not only as a poster advertising the Exposition, but as a cover for the catalogue, to be edited by Dr. H. J. Spinden of the Brooklyn Museum, F. W. Hodge of the Museum of the American Indian, and Oliver La Farge, author.

HOOVER LIFTS RULES ON FOREIGN SERVICE

WASHINGTON, March 13 (UP)—The State Department recently announced that President Hoover had issued an executive order liberalizing the rules regarding entrance to the foreign service.

Under the new ruling clerks who have been five years in the service may become foreign service officers on passing an oral examination. A detailed written examination is required of other applicants. The order also removes the age limit of 35 with respect to such clerks.

BREWERY USES VIOLET RAY

Alaskan Fights U. S. Wire Sale To Private Firm

Delegate Claims It Would Hinder Communication

SEATTLE, March 13 (UP)—Sale of the government-owned and operated Washington-Alaska Military Cable and Telegraph to a private concern would retard the commercial progress of Alaska, in the opinion of Judge James Wickersham, the territory's new delegate to congress.

Discontinuance of stations in isolated points, and increased cost for messages would result from the transaction, and Alaska's only means of rapid communication with the outside world would be impared, Wickersham believes.

The United States army has already started construction of wireless stations to supplant the cable and telegraph system, and bills authorizing the Secretary of War to sell the old system have been introduced in the house and senate.

"On the government-operated system," Wickersham said, "we received good service at very reasonable rates, and many isolated points that would ordinarily have no means of communication are served by wire. A private company would discontinue those non-profit making stations.

"Since the system as a whole is operating at a profit, it would be the utmost folly to place it in private hands, with resultant increased rates and fewer stations."

Wickersham went to Washington to fight for government retention of the cable system, and against proposed rate increases on the Alaska railroad, government-operated transportation system connecting Fairbanks and the interior, with Seward, a seaport.

STUDENTS COMPLETE TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

PHILADELPHIA, March 12 (UP)—Just one year ago this month two University of Pennsylvania students left Philadelphia on a round-the-world journey.

After traveling 31,600 miles the two men, Stewart Smith and Irwin Tweed, arrived home after driving from San Francisco in an old car they purchased for $45 and repaired for $2.

In the course of their wanderings, they worked on ships of ten different nationalities; attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau the same day that Queen Marie of Rumania was present; were on the reception committee for Amy Johnson, ocean flier, in Colombo, Ceylon; saw the Oxford-Cambridge boat races; climbed Piks's Peak; attended the International Exposition in Antwerp; and visited Hollywood and the Grand Canyon.

BOSTON, (UP)—An owl that was killed by kindness has been added to the exhibits at the Boston Museum of Natural History. A Lenox farmer captured the owl and tried to bring it up on a vegetable diet. The bird, a carniverous saw-whet owl, died for lack of meat.

POSTMASTERS MAY HEAR LINDBERGH SPEAK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 13 (UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindburgh and a number of prominent government officials have been invited to speak before the annual convention of Illinois Postmasters to be held in Springfield May 21,22 and 23.

The convention was given Springfield as a result of action by directors of the postmasters organization, in honor of William H. Conkling, Springfield postmaster, who is about to retire.

The fact that Lindburgh and Conkling are personal friends of long standing led officials to invite the famous aviator to the meeting. Lindbergh and Conkling became acquainted here when the latter flew the mails between St. Louis, Springfield and Chicago a year previous to his famous New York-Paris flight.

BUCKEYE, Ariz., (UP)—School children in the Buckeye valley enjoyed the novel experience of going to school in a rowboat this spring when heavy rains caused the Gila river to rise so high that children living on the side opposite from the school house could not ford it.

Convincing FACTS about Natural Gas as a money saving FUEL

AVERAGE SIX MONTHS BILL PER CONSUMER - JUNE TO NOVEMBER INCL. S.F-EAST BAY & SAN JOSE TERRITORY
1928
$19.82 ALL MANUFACTURED GAS
1929
$18.51 PART MANUFACTURED AND PART NATURAL GAS
1930
$13.89 ALL NATURAL GAS
SHOWING INCREASE IN USE OF GAS PER CONSUMER - EXPRESSED IN HEAT UNITS - JUNE TO NOVEMBER INCL.
1928
11.57 MILLIONS HEAT UNITS
1929
12.10 MILLIONS HEAT UNITS
1930
14.76 MILLIONS HEAT UNITS

EVERY one knows that Natural Gas has reduced fuel costs. But we wanted to know the actual amount it saved consumers in a six months' period. So we put accountants and other experts to work comparing the gas bills for the first six months of Natural Gas Service, June to November—1930 with 1929 and 1928. This is what we found:

In the San Francisco, East Bay and San Jose territory, Natural Gas cut the gas bills of our consumers for those six months of 1930 by $2,209,000.

More than that! Customers who saved this money used 27.6 per cent more heat units, obtaining greater comfort or replacing other fuels with a further saving in fuel costs.

Had these additional heat units been charged for at the 1928 rates for manufactured gas, customers would have had to pay another $2,000,000 in gas bills.

So the total saving for half a year, in only a portion of the territory served by us, was $4,209,000. It now looks as if we had been too conservative in our earlier estimate of a saving of $8,500,000 for a full year in the entire territory reached by our natural gas network.

The saving is still going on—it was greater in the cold winter months of December and January than in the June to November period.

Glance at the graphs at the head of this advertisement.

Note that in 1928 the average consumer paid $19.82 from June to November for manufactured gas. In the same period in 1929 he paid only $18.51 for part manufactured and part natural gas. In 1930, when he had full service of natural gas, his bill for the six months dropped to $13.89.

The other column shows how heat units went up as bills went down—11.57 million heat units was the average use per consumer for six months in 1928; 12.10 million in 1929; 14.76 million in 1930.

Dollars saved from one source are dollars available for spending in other places. Millions saved in gas bills go to purchase other commodities—circulate through other channels of trade—create more jobs and more employment.

Natural gas is a money saver for the individual consumer; a prosperity builder for the community.
